

UAA Scholarships

Attention International Students: Applying for UAA scholarships is easy! There are two steps in submitting an application:

- 1. Complete the main scholarship application via UAOnline. To do so, login to UAOnline, select the "Student Services & Account Information" tab and then select "Scholarships" from the list of services. The main scholarship application consists of five easy demographic questions and a biographical, personal profile essay. Visit the www.uaa.alaska.edu/scholarships for more information and for tips on how to write a good UAA scholarship essay.
- 2. Submit the necessary supplemental information for any specific scholarships that you think you are eligible for. Only the scholarships with an asterisk (*) require more information beyond the application referred to in step 1.

The deadline for all 2010/2011 scholarships is 5:00 pm, February 15!

Here is a list of UAA scholarships. The scholarships listed in red are for U.S. citizens only. The scholarships listed in green have preferences that may put international students at a disadvantage, but do NOT exclude international students:

Writing an Effective Personal Profile

Scholarship applications, personal profiles and supplemental information (when required) are reviewed by a scholarship committee comprised of UA faculty and/or staff. Depending on how many scholarships each applicant is eligible for, many applications are reviewed by multiple committees. The committees' task is to match the scholarship program with a scholar. Direct the readers. Why are you the exemplary choice to receive a scholarship?

Committees will evaluate the following: leadership, extracurricular involvement, presentation (grammar, punctuation, etc), your educational and career goals and plans, and any special circumstances (i.e. other information you feel the committee should know about you or your application). Touch upon each of those criteria in your personal profile and go into as much detail as you can within the 3000 character (approximately 500 word) limit. It is strongly recommended that you compose your profile in a word processing program such as Microsoft Word, and then copy and paste into the box provided in UAOnline.

Effective profiles successfully do the following:

Give insight about who you are. They show us who you are, how you think, how you decide to act (or not act) upon something, how you approach a problem or dilemma, how you interact with your environment.

Avoid being melancholy! You do have something interesting to write about. Don't write a resume (unless asked for); let us know what makes you stand out amongst the other applicants. Your personal profile is read by committee members making scholarship recommendations so take the time to put your best foot forward.

Profile Brainstorms:

- Describe activities you are involved in that relate to your educational plan or your future career.
- Describe a scholastic achievement you have made, and why it is important to you.
- Describe contributions you have made to your community and/or campus and explain how those experiences have contributed to your personal growth.
- Pick an experience from your own life and explain how it has influenced your development.
- Where do you see yourself 10 years from now?

Other tips:

- You may choose a topic that 200 other students write about (which is fine). But how you write about your topic can distinguish your essay from the pack.
- Write logically where the reader can follow your train of thought. Make sure your sentences relate to each other. Use transitions when a change takes place in your story or you are making a new point.
- Avoid redundant sentences and phrases.
- Use your own voice; you don't need to impress by using esoteric jargon or vocabulary. Readers detect pretension when reading one mile-size multisyllabic word after another, which makes the writing less compelling. However, it is a good idea to consult a dictionary and thesaurus to find the right words that convey your ideas with precision. Good diction strengthens essays.
- Write what you know. If you are trying to impress the committee by writing on a complicated subject matter but you are not passionate nor know little about it, the reader can pick up on this and your essay may seem disingenuous.
- Use appropriate language. Keep in mind your audience – scholarship committee members who must choose the right scholar for the scholarship program.
